

Accreditation Status of Clinical Nutrition/Nutritional Medicine Degree Programs

If you are unsure about your eligibility, please contact admin@aarpn.com

Accredited

Torrens University and its precursor institutions
2005 onwards

- Bachelor of Health Science (Clinical Nutrition)
- Bachelor of Nutritional Medicine
- Bachelor of Health Science (Nutritional Medicine)

From 2010: Paramount College of Natural Medicine
Bachelor of Health Science (Nutritional Medicine)

From 2009: Victoria University
Bachelor of Science (Nutritional Therapy)

From 2008 to March 2016: Australian College of Natural Medicine (ACNM) trading as Endeavour College
Bachelor of Health Science (Nutritional Medicine)

From March 2016 to July 2021: ACNM trading as Endeavour College
Bachelor of Health Science (Nutritional and Dietetic Medicine)

Accredited Masters Upgrade Pathway

From March 2015 to Current: Deakin Masters of Human Nutrition - when combined with a 3 year Advanced Diploma of Nutritional Medicine (N.B. the Advanced Diploma must have been completed prior to January 2019, with an Australian registered training organisation).

Historical Articulated Degree Programs

From 1994: University of New England, Armidale NSW
4 year Bachelor program articulated with the Advanced Diploma Nutritional Medicine (3 + 1) or Diploma of Nutrition (2 + 2)

From 1998: Charles Sturt University (Bathurst Campus)
4 year Bachelor program articulated with the Advanced Diploma Nutritional Medicine (3 + 1)

From 2003: Southern Cross University (S.C.U.)
4 year Bachelor program articulated with Diploma of Nutrition (2 + 2)

From 2012: Paramount College of Natural Medicine
4 year Bachelor program articulated with the Advanced Diploma of Nutritional Medicine (3 + 1)

Provisional Accredited

N/A

Qualifying

N/A

Not Accredited

From July 2021: ACNM trading as Endeavour College

Bachelor of Health Science (Nutritional and Dietetic Medicine) – not accredited

In March 2020, Endeavour College announced an ongoing business model incongruent with AARPN standards upon which AARPN ceased recognition of the degree for graduates' post July 2021.

From January 2024: ACNM trading as Endeavour College

Bachelor of Health Science (Clinical Nutrition) – not accredited

This institution has not sought accreditation for the Bachelor of Health Science (Clinical Nutrition).